"If in some cases progress has been delayed, this has been due to the fact which has seriously embarrassed his majesty's government in that a number of consignments, for which the American shippers had specifically invoked the protection of the arrangement, are now claimed by Swedish and Dutch firms, whose title to ownership, notwithstanding the action of the American shippers, appears in some cases to be valid, and in others has led to the issue of writs in the prize court.

"18. Complaints have not infrequently been made that undue delay occurs in dealing with American cargoes in the prize court, An interesting comment on this subject was made by the president of the prize court in the ase of the cargo ex steamship Ogeethee on the 14th instant. His lordship, according to the transcript from the indical shorthand writer's notes, made the following observations:

Americans Seek Delay.

"It is a very extraordinary thing that when the crown are ready to go or the claimants come here and say, "We cannot proceed for six weeks." day, toward the end of last term, I had a row of eminent counsel in from ressing me to fix a case at once.

pressing me to fix a case at once.

"I fixed it very nearly at once—that is to say, the second day of the following term. They all came and said: "We want an adjournment for six weeks."

"19 The solicitor general hereupon remarked: "If I might say so on that one of the reasons I applied today on behalf of the crown that the matter should be dealt with as soon as possible is for that very reason. There has been such a strong desire on the part of America and American citizens that there should be no delay, but one finds, in fact, the delay comes from there."

"20. The president then stated: "I know that. I do not knew what the explanation is, but I am anxious that there should be no delay."

"21. It is true that a number of cases, principally relating to cargoes which, though ostensibly consigned to a person in a neutral country, are in reality believed to be destined for the enemy, have been pending in the prize court for some time. The United States government are aware that most of these cargoes consist of meat and lard, and that much of the delay in bringing these cargoes to adjudication was due to the fact that negotiations were beling carried on for many weeks with a representative of the principal American meat packers, for an amicable settlement out of court.
